DANIELSON

Monday afternoon, at his home in Killington Center, funeral services for Louis H. Harris, 45, were conducted by Rev. William Swanson of the Danville Congregational church. Burial was in Danville cemetery. Relatives were bearers. Louis H. Harris was the funeral director.

Mr. Harris died Friday night after a long illness. He had been a resident of Killington practically all of his life. He leaves his wife, a daughter, his father, Henry Harris, and a brother, Charles.

Mrs. Mary Nellie Hopkins, wife of Charles E. Hopkins, died Sunday night at her home here. Her death came on the 18th anniversary of her birth after a week's illness with pneumonia.

Mrs. Hopkins was a daughter of George W. Butts and Sabra Adams Butts and was born at Coventry, R. I. She leaves her husband, a son, Herbert, a daughter, Mrs. Hazel Breyana, two sisters, Mrs. Mima Dragon and Mrs. Bertha Barber of this town, and a brother George Butts of East Killing.

Announcements were being awaited here Monday afternoon from the Southern New England conference at Pawtucket, of the appointment of Rev. C. C. Tibbets as the new pastor of the Danville Methodist Episcopal church. This appointment was practically agreed upon during conference days last week. Rev. Mr. Tibbets is at present pastor at Uxbridge. His appointment to the local church will be welcomed. It is expected that Rev. Mr. Tibbets will preach at the services at the local church next Sunday. His family is expected to take up residence at the parsonage here during the week.

Rev. M. S. Stebbing, who has been pastor here, is to be assigned to Westerly.

Considerable quantities of hard coal are in the hands of local dealers, excluding the possibility of any shortage for domestic use in the near future. The coal strike has stirred up much talk in the town. It is expected that the amount of coal normally used here during the season will have been used in the next three weeks, though, of course, there are a few exceptions.

Instruction in woodcraft was continued at Monday evening's meeting of the Boy Scouts. During the next few weeks work will be pushed on second class scout trails in order that all the membership of the troop shall have qualified for this rating by the time the charter is renewed in May.

Two weeks were rounded Monday since the disappearance of the Rot who was home on Dyer street. Though the case is not attracting so much attention just now as was the case during the first few days after his disappearance, the search for him on the part of his relatives and the members of the Killington Women's club is almost constant. All of the searching has revealed nothing of importance since the finding of his cap near the Quinsigamond river bank on a day last week.

Feeling better, the camera is the subject of an illustrated lecture which Albert Morgan of West Hartford is to give tomorrow (Wednesday) afternoon at the assembly hall of the Killington Women's club. The lecture will deal chiefly with bird life, a subject of special interest in the spring season when feathered friends who have been away all winter are flocking back to remain until fall.

Danielson's numerous persons who have been in Florida and other states and who have been returning for the past few days have found the weather in Danville very warm. Many of the newcomers are reporting that the weather in the south is much warmer than in the north.

While it matters little at just this time as all outlying highways are going through the spring process of drying out and are not harrying much with the job—it will be good news to the average traveler to know that a good detour will be provided to points east of South Killing and the state road work is under way between Danville and that place for the next six months. The detour route will take traffic by Spaulding's four corners and into South Killing.

The regular weekly canvass by representatives of striking textile workers in some of the local stores of New England was made here Monday. Representatives of the strikers came every week and receive numerous contributions from workers in this territory who desire to help them.

Employees of the Crystal Water company started Monday the seasonal work of putting in services, which work has been suspended during the winter months.

PUTNAM

For the second consecutive year, Malcolm M. Willey has been awarded a fellowship at Columbia university. Mr. Willey has been making exceptional records as a student since his high school days. Following his graduation at Putnam High school he entered Clark university, Worcester, and was graduated there, two years ago this coming summer, with highest honors, being the only member of his class to attain that distinction. Last year at Columbia he won a fellowship and this being an exception to the general rule—has again been selected for that honor. Mr. Willey is expected in Putnam early in June to remain for the greater part of the summer.

Horse buyers from many towns in this section of eastern Connecticut came to Putnam Monday to attend a sale of North Dakota horses at the Harper stables on South Main street. These horses arrived here last week direct from the west. They were on the road about five days and reached here in good condition. Local buyers seemed particularly interested in these western horses, the majority of which were of heavy types suitable for work on farms or in hauling operations.

Judge L. F. Waldo Marvin will begin the week's sessions of the Windham county superior court here today. Stephen Slingsby, 42, a native of Derbyshire, England, is dead at his home here. Mr. Slingsby's death came as a surprise to numbers of his friends in town, as his illness was of short duration and he had been down town a few days ago. For nearly forty years he was an employee of the Hall thread mills in Willington and is credited with having evolved some patents while engaged in that occupation. Later he was a resident of the town of Woodstock and proprietor of a store in that community. He has been a resident of Putnam for several years. Mr. Slingsby is survived by a daughter, Miss Harriet Slingsby, with whom he has made his home. Mrs. Slingsby has been dead for many years.

A Franklin touring car, abandoned in the Pomfret Landing section of the town of Pomfret, was returned to the owner, Wilfred Hart, of Waterbury, Sunday, when Mr. Hart sent a driver to Putnam to get the machine. The car, which was stolen in Waterbury a week or more ago, attracted the attention of Pomfret Landers as it stood by the roadside for several days. Captain Remie Delarge of the Putnam police was notified and had the car brought to a Putnam garage. On being driven over the machine a mark of a Waterbury distributor was found and by using the telephone the owner of the car was soon located. The car had apparently been in a slight accident and the machine was slightly damaged. The gasoline tank was empty which probably led to the automobile being abandoned as there was no chance to obtain a supply of gas in the rural section where the car went dead.

This (Tuesday) evening brings the April meeting of the common council. It has been suspended during the winter months. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Galt have returned here after spending several weeks in the south.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lumpy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

Aside from some petitions that may be received, it was stated Monday that little aside from routine business is likely to come up for consideration at the meeting. The petitions that are expected have to do with requests for severing curbing improvements in Taten and Eden streets.

Farmers and other owners of horses in territory adjacent to this city have been reaping a harvest during the past few days hauling stalled trucks and pleasure automobiles out of the mud. Dozens of cars have been stalled, and following the coming of the snow last Thursday a string of seven trucks was stuck between this city and a few miles west of here on the Chepachet road.

However, and it is mentioned, these conditions continue to be so bad that it is exceedingly risky to venture off the state highways with a motor vehicle.

Mrs. Henry will talk especially of the town management system that has been introduced in her home town and the efforts of workers of lectures arranged by the Putnam League of Voters.

The strike of several hundred thousand coal miners has stirred up no more interest in Putnam. It is a state of mind that is chiefly due to the fact that the strike has been inaugurated at a period of the year when there is no urgent need in this territory for coal.

The state trade school, which is in session throughout the year, is again calling attention to the variety and practical nature of its courses. The school is prepared to give adequate instruction in a number of courses. It is a state institution and welcomes students from all of the surrounding towns.

Road scraping machines are doing excellent work in the effort of workers of the state highway department to put trunk line routes in this territory back into good condition. Last week's unexpected snow storm proved a setback to these road workers, but they were making good progress again on Monday, when the roads had dried out in most places after being freed of snow at the weekend.

An exodus of trout fishermen who were denied their sport at the opening of the season marked the coming of better weather Monday. Some strings of trout have been shown here, but no large catches had been reported up to Monday afternoon.

HOPKINTON
The inhabitants of the village of Ashaway were much alarmed for the safety of a large portion of the village because of the fire which totally destroyed the barn belonging to the premises of Dr. Alexander B. Briggs Thursday evening, which premises are occupied by his son, Dr. Asa S. Briggs. The barn was on fire about 10 o'clock in the morning and the fire apparatus came but the fire was controlled when they arrived. The barn was visited at various times during the day and no trouble appeared. About 10 o'clock in the evening the fire was to be abated and alarm was sounded by the bell and whistle of the Ashaway mill. A crowd of helpers soon arrived, a line of hose was laid from the mill, chemical apparatus was brought to the fire and the Westery fire company was again summoned. No chance existed for saving the barn and all effort was directed to saving surrounding houses and buildings. If the severe storm had not covered the roofs with ice and kept them wet, the fire must have spread with destruction. When the big Westery pump arrived the barn was nearly consumed, but a stream of water from the river was poured upon the glowing timbers for about an hour. Since Dr. A. B. Briggs moved from the place not much of value has been kept in the barn. Nearly all the glass in the windows of the house on the side next to the barn was cracked by the heat. The loss was covered by insurance. The cause of the fire is uncertain, but a spark from the morning fire must have been smoldering for hours.

He said that Christianity must be applied to business and politics, and not only to private life, also that many devotees give their time and energies to missions but neglect their own lives. There should be a community spirit, and co-operation is the keynote of Christianity. We must make our everyday life according to the path that God has in mind for us.
